COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 3.

A WITHDRAWAL of £225,000 from the Bank of England for North America is advised in Reuter's message of yesterday, and although the market rates of discount are unaltered it is evident from the general decline in Securities that dearer money is once more expected. It is unfortunate at the moment that the New York telegrams are missing, as the exchange quotation might have thrown some additional light on the position; in the meantime a fall of ¼ per cent. in Consols and 4 per cent. Rupee Paper and ½ in French Rentes is sufficient indication of the views held in London.

In the Produce Markets, Cocoanut-oil is quoted 10s. per ton lower. Linseed is 3d. to 1s. per quarter lower for Calcutta qualities, although unchanged for Bombay. Rapeseed is unchanged, as also Wheat.

Piece-goods in Manchester are quiet, and Reuter's quotations show a decline of 1½d. per piece in 31lb. Madapollams, ¾d. in Mulls, and ½d. per lb. in Mule Twist.

The Liverpool Cotton Market yesterday closed strong for Americans with an advance of ¼d. per lb., both on the spot and to arrive, firm for Surats, but without change in prices, although out of the 12,000 bales sales the comparatively full proportion of 1,200 is put down for Surats. To-day's market is reported firm, sales 8,000 bales, spot prices unchanged all round, but Americans to arrive again 3-32d. higher. From New York we have had neither Cotton quotations nor receipts at the ports advised for two days, but Reuter advises that "in consequence of an extensive strike amongst the labourers in New Orleans the movements of Cotton are being checked." This throws some light on the rapid rise of yesterday, as the possibility of a September corner, which, with the comparatively liberal receipts commencing, would have been somewhat remote, is now by no means so. From the present level, however, the rise cannot in the ordinary course of things be important, whilst the room for a fall afterwards will be considerable.

We subjoin our usual weekly comparison of the statistical position of the staple. The Liverpool stock has decreased 9,000 bales and the visible supply 20,000 bales during the week, but in round figures the former item is 120,000 bales and the latter 500,000 bales over the same period last year.

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 2nd instant, compares with the two previous years, as follows:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Total supply of all kinds ..	1,740,000	1,268,790	983,640
" " " Surats.....	450,000	378,800	452,820
For the U. K. only the figures are :—
Stock in Liverpool	738,000	616,780	378,570
" London	50,000	43,640	71,830
American Afloat	60,000	38,000	26,000
E. Indian "	100,000	77,000	105,000
	948,000	775,420	581,420
Price of Mid-Uplands	7 1-16d.	7d.	6 13-16d.
" Fair Dhollera.....	4 3-16d.	4 15-16d.	5 5-16d.
Difference..	2¾d.	2 1-16d.	1¼d.

EXCHANGE opened quiet with a decline of 1-32d. in Bank paper, but no movement in private bills, and during the day no further alteration has taken place. Very little business has been done, but the tendency is fairly steady, the aspect of the money market, both in London and here, being by no means in favour of a further decline. We quote:—

Bank Bills on demand	..1s. 7 25-32d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic..	..1s. 7¾d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight..	..1s. 7 15-16d.	"
Credits, 3 " "	..1s. 8 3-32d.	"
Documents, 3 " "	..1s. 8¼d.	"
Francs 3 " "	..2 12½.	"

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been quiet, but very steady at Rs. 100¼ to ⅜ for Fours and Rs. 109¼ for Fours-and-a-half. Transactions have been small, the operations on the part of the banks being only put at between 3 and 4 lakhs.

SHARES have been quiet and, as a rule, tending easier. Bank of Bombays have been an exception having recovered to Rs. 732½. In Land Companies and Press shares there is no change, but Spinning and Weaving Mill share are mostly Rs. 5 lower.

COTTON to-day has met a slightly increased enquiry for export, but owing to the difficulty buyers have in meeting with suitable quality very little has been done.

SEEDS are unchanged. WHEAT is quieter again with sellers of any delivery at Rs. 33-8 to Rs. 34 per candy. Arrivals are most liberal.

FREIGHTS have undergone no change. On the spot they are firm and tonnage is still wanted for September-October loading, but for these months there are practically no boats offering, whilst shippers won't charter for later.

PIECE-GOODS continue as quiet as ever. On the spot the demand is dull, but dealers would buy for future shipment if they could get in on a parity with ready rates.

COALS show no change of any kind.

Invitations are out for a masque ball at Simla on the 20th September, the first ever given at the summer seat of the Government of India.

THE latest on dit at Simla is, we hear, that some speculative people are contemplating a five-lakhs lottery: two lakhs are wanted to meet the cost of the agitated Kursaal, and seventy-five thousand rupees for a projected European hospital, there being no such desirable institution at this rich, but at the same time poor, sanitarium. The balance of the five lakhs, it is alleged, is to be divided amongst the prize-winners. It is asserted that six months would absorb all the tickets at ten rupees each. The question is, whether the Punjab Government would sanction it. But the Government of the North-Western Povinces established a precedent a short time since, and it may be on the cards—so our correspondent writes—that the Punjab Government may follow suit, and turn up trumps!

CHOLERA is considerably increasing in Umballa; there were about 30 fresh cases on Wednesday.

UP to the 28th of August the number of deaths from the recent outbreak of cholera in Jullunder city was close upon 230; while upwards of 100 more deaths have occurred in the surrounding district.

THE down mail-train from the Punjab was detained some hours at Futtehpore on Friday morning, owing to a slight accident to an up goods-train, two wagons of which got derailed and blocked the line for the mail-train.

AT a meeting of medical officers held at the Surgeon-General's Office, Town Hall, on Saturday evening last, and presided over by Deputy Surgeon-General Moore, it was decided to revive the Bombay Medical and Physical Society, which has been in a state of hybernation now for some five or six years. The old rules, with some few modifications, were adopted; a president and committee of management were appointed; and Drs. Cody and Maconachie were appointed Joint-Secretaries. Since the drowsy fit came over the old society there has been a large infusion of new blood into the Medical Service, which will no doubt respond to a little energy on the part of the Joint-Secretaries. The junior members of the service may not be aware that all medical officers of the British and Indian Departments are eligible for ordinary membership on application, and that the society publishes a volume of transactions, in which papers of scientific interest are inserted; and as many of them must almost daily come across cases of interest, there can be no better or readier means of giving them publicity.

THE Government of Bengal has made a definite offer of three lakhs of rupees for the Bengal Iron Works, and the liquidators propose to put up the property for sale at auction, in one month's time, setting upon it an upset price of three lakhs, and if no bid above that sum is made to accept the offer of the Bengal Government.

MR. DALGLEISH, who was formerly connected with the Central Asian Trading Company, passed through Ladakh lately, en route for Yarkund, on a trading venture. He had a caravan with him of about 30 horses. This is the first time since the Chinese re-occupation of Eastern Turkestan that an English trader has visited the country.

THE Pioneer hears from Peshawur that Asmatulla Khan, with a band of Ghilzai followers, is pillaging and raiding on the road near Barikab. There are two places named Barikab near Basaule; one of which is on the direct road to Jellalabad, and the other on the river-route. Both are in Shinwari country, and that tribe, if aided by the Amir's Governor of Jellalabad, should be equal to defeating the raiders

A TELEGRAM to the Allahabad paper from Quetta, 1st September, says:—"All is quiet in Beluchistan. News has been received from Kelat that Mahomed Azim Khan, with two regiments and some guns, had arrived from Kabul at Shahjui, and that the Amir was no far behind with a large force. The Amir, it was said, had already arrived at Mashaki, and was expected to reach Kelat-i-Ghilzai in a few days. It is also reported that the Amir is trying to effect a diversion in the Herat neighbourhood, and has sent Sirdar Abdul Kudus Khan, vid Sir-i-Jangal, to Herat territory to stir up the tribes. In Kandahar all is quiet, but the reports about Ayoub's intended movements are rather conflicting. According to one report he was to have marched for Kelat-i-Ghilzai with several regiments on the 27th, and Sirdar Mahomed Hussain Khan was to have gone with him, but it is now stated that being uncertain of our intentions towards him, he is afraid to move from Kandahar. His preparations are, however, being actively pushed on. He has vowed in the Kirkah-i-Sharif to remit one-tenth of the land revenue of Kandahar and the house-tax if his arms are successful, and is doing his best to conciliate all classes of the population. A number of Alizai sowars have joined him from Zamindawar, and he has despatched Sultan Khan, Atchakzai, to Tukht-i-Pul to keep open the road to India and protect travellers. There is a report that the Amir has written to Ayoub refusing to entertain any overtures for peace."

THE Lahore paper says it is currently reported at Simla that Mr. D. G. Barklay, C. S., is to be appointed an additional member of the Legislative Council to represent the Punjab in that body.

THE Madras Standard tells us that it is proposed to start a fourth cotton mill in Madras, and offers an opinion that there is room for two or three more. There can be no doubt of this, the Indian Agriculturist thinks. "Besides the quantity of twist which Madras exports, there are no fewer than 247,877 private looms for cotton cloth in the Presidency, the owners of which will never use hand-made twist, when the machine-made article is placed within their reach, the latter article being much more regular as to count—an important matter in the manufacture of cloth."

THE Maharaja of Fureedkote has changed his intention of returning to his own territory before the opening of the Fine Arts Exhibition at Simla on Saturday, the 17th September. His Highness has, however, placed his fine estate "Ravenswood" at the disposal of the Committee for the Exhibition; occupying merely a portion of the upper-storey of the house himself until the end of the season.

ACCORDING to the Civil and Military Gazette, the Government of India have recently sent home an important despatch relating to the reorganization of the Indian Medical Service. The spirit of unification will be found to have firmly laid hold of the minds of the Indian Government, and the days of the Indian Medical Department are said to be numbered. In the scheme which has been submitted to the Secretary of State for India, it is proposed that the Medical Department of India should be amalgamated with the British Army Medical Department, on a system similar to that which was adopted when the Indian Corps of Engineers were incorporated with the Royal Engineers. Medical officers of the Indian service who obtained their first commissions before 1865 are to be specially dealt with. Their rank, prospects of promotion, and other privileges will not be interfered with, and they will be allowed to die out or remove themselves by retirement unmolested. Surgeons who have entered the Indian Medical Service since that year, however, having been appointed under special conditions, will be transferred to the British Medical Department, though probably promoted according to their own cadres to the higher administrative appointments as vacancies occur.

IT is stated that the Maharaja of Mysore, in consultation with his Minister, has had in consideration a scheme for the introduction of an Agricultural Department in connection with the Government of that province. The Indian Agriculturist remarks:—"Such a scheme cannot but recommend itself to all well-wishers of the country, and there should be no delay in carrying it into effect. Mysore is preeminently an agricultural country, and all the resources of the province in this direction should be carefully developed. The country has suffered fearfully from famine, and we are now threatened with a scarcity again, and it is high time measures were taken in hand to check the ravages of the giant monster by looking after the agriculture and irrigation of the province, which we take to be the only effectual remedies."

THE latest report of the Government Quinologist regarding the working of the cinchona plantation and factory near Darjeeling for the year 1880-81 shows that, while the factory has disposed of 8,600 lbs. of febrifuge, or 500 lbs. more than was sold in the previous year, the plantation has harvested a crop of 348,560 lbs. of bark. The earnings for the year amount to Rs. 80,290, representing a dividend of eight per cent. on the capital of the plantation; exclusive of the saving which Government derives from substituting the febrifuge for quinine in public hospitals and dispensaries, which saving Dr. King estimates at four-and-a-half lakhs for the year—almost the value of half the capital expenditure on the plantation. It is noted in the report, as a gratifying sign, that there is a considerable increase in the amount of febrifuge sold directly to the public—an indication that the people are taking to it and learning its value as a cure for fever.

THERE were no less than 1,862 riots reported in Bengal last year; and, as the Pioneer remarks, though this is a slight reduction on the figures for the year before, the state of things is far from satisfactory. Dacca is the most riotous division; though there—as in Rajshahye, Bhagulpure, and Orissa—there has been a slight decrease. In the Patna and Presidency divisions, on the other hand, there has been an increase in the number of riots. The Inspector-General of Police thinks that, on the whole, "progress has been made during the year in putting a stop to these cases, which have long been the blot upon the criminal administration of Bengal;" but he admits that much remains to be done. The Lieutenant-Governor and the Inspector-General of Police disagree as to whether the law lays down a sufficient penalty for abetting a riot. The zemindars or their agents, says the Inspector-General, who are at the bottom of almost all the riots committed, can only be punished by fine; which costs the zemindars nothing, and is virtually paid by the ryots. But the Lieutenant-Governor says that when actual abetment can be proved, the zemindar can be punished by imprisonment. There must be something wrong when the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has to give his Inspector-General of Police elementary lessons in the Penal Code.

A RECENT issue of the Kolnische Zeitung gives some particulars of the death at Amsterdam of Dr. Tanner, the American, whose prolonged fast not long ago drew universal attention to him:—"On the 5th July the lanky Doctor, with his corpulent spouse and two children, arrived at Amsterdam. He put up at a hotel, where he is said to have consumed a great deal of meat and a corresponding quantity of liquor. Dr. Groff, a physician of note in Amsterdam, had written to several of the public journals in Holland expressing serious doubts of Dr. Tanner's fast, and avowing his belief that he must have had some secret mode of sustenance; and Dr. Tanner crossed over to Amsterdam for the purpose of laying a wager of 50,000 fr. with the Dutch physician that he would repeat his fast in his own house and under his immediate observation. Dr. Groff was absent from town when Dr. Tanner arrived at Amsterdam, and returned on July 19, when the latter went to call upon him. Dr. Groff came out to receive him at the head of the stairs, when Dr. Tanner lost his footing and fell, hurting his head severely. He became unconscious, and remained in that condition until he died the following day. Some eminent surgeons of the city begged Mrs. Tanner's permission to dissect the body, but she only allowed it to be weighed. It scaled 108 lb. At the end of his fast he weighed 96 lb."

THE same paper gives an account of an aquatic race in the Danube at Vienna. Twelve young ladies, in elegant and attractive costumes, were the competitors, and thousands of people assembled to witness the contest. They swam a distance of 5,300 metres, the winner, Miss Aloysia Seifer, doing the distance in 23 min. 58 sec. They were accompanied by Bachmeyer, the champion Austrian swimmer, who did the same distance some time ago in rather more than 25 minutes.

It has certainly been the only means of saving my life on two occasions; and even now, when I feel 'out of condition,' I take it, and like it, unmixed with anything, as being the most agreeable way." CRICKET.

BOMBAY vs. MOFUSSIL.

THERE was very good cricketers' weather again on Saturday, when this match was concluded—i. e. concluded in the sense that it is not to be continued further, though it was not played out. Another quarter, or, at most, half an hour of daylight would have sufficed to finish the second innings of the Mofussil team; but as it was too dark to play after six o'clock, the stumps and the match had both to be drawn. Considering the small number of runs they required to win, and that they had four wickets still to go down, the Mofussilites must be pronounced to have the best of the position though the glorious uncertainties of cricket are such that, had the game been played out to the end, the layer of very heavy odds on them would probably have had an uncomfortable time of it before the finish. The Bombay men were not much better placed at about the same point in the Bombay vs. Poona match the other day, and yet they managed to win by one run.

Play re-commenced on Saturday morning punctually at eleven o'clock, the two men of the Mofussil team who were not out the previous evening (Boevey and Lawrence) again going forth, padded and gloved, to defend their wickets against the attacks of Wyer and Ryan. Boevey took the first ball from Ryan, who bowled from the pavilion end. Caution was the order of the play at the start, each bowler sending down a maiden before Boevey opened his account with the scorers (he had not troubled them during the short time he was at the wickets on Friday evening) by a hit to leg off Ryan for one run. A leg bye off the same over, and another leg bye off the first ball of Wyer's second over, brought the total to 45. Boevey got Wyer away to leg for a single, and Lawrence hit the next ball to long on for two. Directly afterwards Boevey drove Ryan nicely for three, and Lawrence hit the last ball of the same over to leg for a couple. From the fourth ball of Ryan's following over Boevey put up a catch dangerously near Lang at point, but it was a little too wide of his position for him to get at it in time. The bowlers now pulled themselves together, and a couple of maidens were trundled from each end. Then Boevey put a ball from Ryan away to leg for one. Lawrence drove the next ball for another single, and got the bowling from the other end. He scored a single off Wyer's over, which placed him again in opposition to Ryan, off whose second ball he was caught in the slips by Wyer. Nine wickets for 56 runs, 14 having been put on for the single wicket secured since play recommenced. J. M. Campbell took Lawrence's place, and Boevey, to encourage the new comer, hit Wyer very neatly to leg for three and a little later drove the same bowler for two. Ryan had bowled three maidens in succession, when Boevey broke the charm by snicking a fast one past the leg side of the wicket for three. At 66 Moore went on in place of Wyer, but was only required to bowl one over, as off the next ball from Ryan Boevey was smartly caught by Harrison at the wicket, and the fifth ball of the same over the last man, Adams, was clean bowled. Ten and eleven for 70. Ryan had secured all the three remaining wickets at a cost of twelve runs, and his analysis for the whole innings read:—130 balls, 20 runs, 16 maiden overs, 7 wickets—a very fine performance.

The Mofussilites, first innings closed a few minutes before 12 o'clock; and the second innings of the Bombay twelve was commenced a quarter of an hour later. Wilkins, who bowled the first over from the pavilion end, commenced by hitting Wyer hard on the leg—so hard as to constrain him to dance an impromptu hornpipe. He came up to time, however, nothing daunted, and revenged himself by hitting the next ball away to leg for three. Harrison, who went in first with Wyer, played the remaining three balls of the over without scoring. Wood bowled at the other end. Wyer got a single off his first ball; but the next ball clean bowled Harrison. One for 4. This was not a promising commencement, and very soon Bombay's prospects looked even much worse. Hills joined Wyer, but their partnership was soon dissolved. The new comer having played through a maiden over by Wilkins, Wyer got the first ball of Wood's next over neatly away to leg for two; but in attempting a similar hit at the next ball, he lost his wicket, being given out leg before. Two for 7. Young, who followed Wyer, drove the first ball he received for two; a couple of balls later he got a square leg hit for one off the same bowler (Wood); and in the succeeding over he drove Wilkins to the off for a couple. A little later he gave a chance (off Wilkins) to square leg, but it was not taken. Hills cut two balls in succession off Wilkins very prettily, each hit scoring a couple. Young hit rather across at the fourth ball of Wood's next over, a straight one pretty well pitched up, missed it, and was bowled. Three for 17. Forrest was the next man in, and began his usual careful defence of his wicket, without any particular effort to make runs. Hills, as if to waken his partner up a little, opened his shoulders at a leg ball from Wilkins, and, catching it beautifully, sent it on a long journey in the direction of the Gaiety Theatre—a magnificent hit, for which six were run. "Pride goes before a fall," however, as the children's copy-books tell us. The applause which his grand gallery hit drew from the spectators had scarcely subsided, when Hills (in attempting to cut the next ball hard) was smartly caught by Kennedy at point. Four for 23. Moore joined Forrest, and commenced playing very carefully; but after getting through a maiden over from Wilkins, his career was cut short in the following over from the same bowler, by a ball which unfortunately went in off his pads. Five for 23. Lang, who took Moore's place, drove the first ball bowled to him for two; and another single having been added, Forrest, who had played through five maiden overs bowled in succession by Wood, without getting a ball from Wilkins, was caught off the last-named bowler by Gell at slip—a pretty catch taken with one hand, the fielder having to stretch his arm over his head to his full reach. Six for 26. Nicholson, who followed, after giving half a chance off Wilkins to short leg, but not far enough out for Adams to get at in time, cut the same bowler prettily for three; and in the following over he made a very fine drive all along the ground off Wood for four. This hit was a rather rough break in a run of maidens, Wood having previously bowled six in succession. At this point, with the score standing at 34 for six wickets, the bell rang for tiffin.

After tiffin, Nicholson continued to score freely, hitting Wilkins during the first over to square leg for a couple, and soon afterwards cutting the same bowler neatly for three, a feat which he followed up by placing Wood to leg for a single. Lang added one off the same bowler, and Nicholson then cut him for two. Off Wilkins' next over Lang got a nice forward cut for three, which brought the total up to 46. At this point Holland was put on to bowl in place of Wood. Lang cut his first ball prettily for three, and Nicholson got the fourth ball of the same over away to square leg for a single. The second ball of Wilkins' next over put an end to Nicholson's promising innings. The ball bumped rather from the pitch, and, getting up high on the bat, rose in the air between the wickets. Wilkins, who had some dozen yards to run for it, got there just in time and secured the catch—a very smart bit of cricket. Seven for 50, twenty-four runs having been added, thanks to Nicholson's well-played innings, between the fall of the sixth and seventh wickets. Tennent, who took Nicholson's place, was caught at the wicket by Hobday off the second ball Wilkins bowled to him. Eight for 50. Walker followed Tennent, and Bombay men hoped that he and Lang (both good bats) would make a stand; but only one more run had been added when Lang was bowled by Wilkins with a slow "yorker," at which he played with the greatest care. Nine for 51. R. S. Campbell went in next, and he and Walker stayed together for a time and ran the score up pretty rapidly. Campbell commenced with a couple of singles; after which Walker lifted one of Wilkins' well away to long on for two. Next Campbell cut Holland smartly for a couple, and directly afterwards got a ball from the same bowler away through the slips for three. At 65 Gell bowled instead of Holland, and Walker hit the last ball of his first over to square leg for three. During the next over from Wilkins, Walker, in attempting a leg hit, skied the ball, and everybody thought Shewan had it safe—the batsmen being so certain running would be labour lost that they neglected the old rule "always run a catch," and remained at their wickets—but the ball was not caught. It dropped into the fielder's hands fair enough, but he let it drop through on to the ground. When only one more run had been scored, however, Campbell drove one from Wilkins into his brother's (J. M. Campbell's) hands at long off; and this time the ball was held. Ten for 67. Ryan, the last man, was unfortunately run out almost immediately, in attempting to run three for the first ball he hit; and the innings closed at 3.25 for 70, the same number that the Mofussil twelve scored at their first attempt, so that they had to beat Bombay's first innings of 96 in their second innings to win.

But the afternoon was so far advanced, that unless the Mofussilites went to pieces, there was little chance of the match resulting in anything but a draw. It was a quarter to four when their second innings began; and though 97 runs have no doubt often been made in a couple of hours, the scoring had been so slow throughout the match, that it was not likely to be done on this occasion. Hobday and Gell went in first, the former taking the bowling from Wyer. He got the second ball away for two—should have been only one but for a bit of loose fielding on the part of third man. Gell hit the third ball or Ryan's first over to leg—a pretty hit, but which only brought one run, the ball being well fielded by Nicholson. The same batsman added two to his score by a square leg hit off Wyer; Hobday made one off Ryan; and after a maiden from Wyer, Gell scored another single off Ryan in consequence of loose fielding at long on. Gell cut Wyer for two; Hobday hit Ryan to square leg for one; and Gell cut the same bowler prettily for two—three were run, but the umpire called one short. The batsmen had now settled down to their work, and they hit about them freely. Hobday drove Ryan for three, and in the next over got a hit to square leg and a cut off Wyer, each for two. Gell snicked one of Ryan's for a single, and Hobday hit the next ball to long on for three—a very fine drive which was worth more, and would have produced another run had not the ball been stopped by a ridge at the edge of the field. A little later, in trying to lift one of Wyer's after a similar fashion, he stepped out of his ground, missed the ball, and was promptly stumped by Harrison. One for 23; and forty minutes of the two hours left for the Mofussil to score the 97 runs they required to win had gone. Wood's appearance at the wicket in place of Hobday was followed by a couple of maiden overs; and then the new comer (a left-handed man) drove Wyer for three. Each batsman added a single or two in the course of the next few overs. With the score at 30, Wood gave Harrison a chance at the wicket off Ryan, which was not taken—the only chance that the Bombay wicket-keeper missed throughout the match. At 32 the bowlers changed ends. Wood hit the third ball of Ryan's first over from his new end for three, and Gell got a couple off the same over. A little later Wood hit a ball up to mid on, which Wyer (the bowler) ran for, and caught. Two for 38. Holland having joined Gell, the latter hit Wyer to leg for three, and got a single in the next over off Ryan. Holland cut Ryan for three, and drove Wyer for other three. At 48 Ryan was relieved by Lang, whose first ball bowled Holland off his pads. Gell's next partner was Wilkins, who did not stay with him long, being clean bowled by Wyer when he had scored only two runs. Four for 51. Shewan, who followed, was at the wicket some time witnout scoring, while Gell put on several singles; but at last he got one to leg off Wyer for three, and in the next over he hit Ryan for two. The fourth ball of Ryan's 15th over the umpire called "no ball." Shewan cut it hard, but got under it, and it was well caught by Forrest at deep cover point. It was rather hard lines for Ryan and the Bombay team that the wicket did not count. At this point (5.25) a heavy shower of rain fell, and the players had to seek shelter in the tent; and when play was resumed there remained only 12 minutes to time (5.45). Gell hit Ryan to square leg for two, and directly afterwards scored three off the same bowler for a snick through the slips. A leg bye brought the score up to 70. Shewan next hit Wyer for two; and next Ryan clean bowled Gell, who had been in from the first and played capital cricket, for his very useful score of 32. Five for 73. Boevey joined Shewan, and began work at once by hitting Ryan to square leg for one. In the next over he got another single off Wyer, and a little later he slipped Ryan neatly for three. Time was called with the score at 78; but, the light being better after the shower, it was agreed to continue till six. Both teams now played up with great spirit, the Mofussilites bent on getting the required number of runs before play ceased, and the Bombay men working hard to prevent it, and if possible get all their wickets before 96 was reached. Boevey drove Wyer for three amid loud cheers from the spectators; and Shewan cut the next ball for two, but was bowled directly after. Six for 83. Lawrence was the next man in. Ryan sent down a maiden, and the last ball of the over Boevey was given out l. b. w. Seven for 83. Kennedy joined Lawrence, who put Wyer away to leg for one. Kennedy cut the next ball hard, but it was stopped by Moore (third man), and returned so sharply that there was no chance of a run. A single by Kennedy, and a leg bye, brought the score to 86, when Kennedy cut a ball from Ryan hard and high, which Lang, at point, by jumping up and stretching out his arm above his head, just managed to stop, saving three runs at least; but it was too hot to hold. It was now six o'clock, and the stumps had to be drawn, leaving the Mofussilites with eleven runs wanted to win, and four wickets to go down; but had time permitted of the match being played out, they could only have put in two other men because one of their team (Leach) was sick, having unfortunately been touched by the sun.

The match altogether was a very pleasant one, and no doubt all the members of the Mofussil team will be glad to come to Bombay again next year, as all the Bombayites will be to meet again foemen so well worthy of their steel. One slight unpleasantness did arise which it would be well to guard against in future. The decisions of the umpires were rather loudly declaimed against in one or two cases; and, apart from the strict rule which says that the umpire's fiat shall not be questioned, it is not a fair return to a gentleman who from pure love of the game stands out in an Indian sun all day as umpire of a match, for players to abuse him for fancied mistakes, which even the most angry batsman aggrieved at being given out "l.b.w." or "run out" would not for a moment, of course, think were intentional wrong rulings.

An account of this match ought not to be closed without special mention of the admirable bowling on both sides, and particularly of Ryan, Wilkins, and Wyer; of the plucky and highly successful manner in which both Harrison (for Bombay) and Hobday (for the Mofussil) kept wickets; and of the capital long-stopping on both sides. In spite of the great pace of much of the bowling, there was only one bye scored throughout the match.

AGRICULTURAL BANKS FOR INDIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Your Poona correspondent urges against Mr. Wedderburn's schemes that taking the place of the money-lender would only add to the unpopularity of Government; but it may be presumed that Government have rejected this theoretical objection, for your correspondent adds, in the same breath, "Government does already offer to lend the ryot money for agricultural purposes." As to the objection of Government having no money to start the banks with, I imagine the only concessions desired are—(1) a guarantee for a limited term, (2) legal power to recover. I would partly substitute for the former a subscription towards the reserve fund; and I would fence the latter concession with a proviso for a maximum rate of dividend, and with an option of purchase by Government. The bank ought, I think, also to have the power of dealing in produce, so far as their constituents' debts are concerned. To begin with, the savings banks should receive special encouragement; for, although there are ryots in a position to make use of them, it must be remembered that confidence is a plant of slow growth, and requires "cossetting." Hand in hand with this reform—otherwise the condition of the ryots will remain nearly stationary—should proceed the revision of what may have been done in late years contrary to the good old principle of a "moderate assessment." This will hardly, I should think, be feasible so long as economy of administration is not really practised.

FAIR TRADE VS. FREE TRADE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Allow me to reply to a few of the remarks contained in your leader of the 31st ult. The foundation of my argument against "ultra" free trade was that such a course is found to clash with national considerations of far greater importance than buying always in the cheapest market. I can conceive no such obstacles to stand in the way of free trade between either Yorkshire and Kent, or Georgia and Massachusetts. Should a workingman of either Yorkshire or Georgia find it necessary, in order to earn a living, to move to Kent or Massachusetts respectively, his country would in either case retain his capital and producing and consuming powers; but should he depart to a foreign State, they would lose all three.

As regards keeping a certain amount of the population at home for defence, I fail to see that this would reduce the national capital, though it might not directly increase it. Moreover, the days when we could hire mercenary soldiers has gone by: we can only now obtain fighting men from our own subjects. The exodus from Germany is, no doubt, chiefly due to the conscription, certainly not to escape protection, as America is equally protective. The French, as every one knows, keep down their population by unnatural means. You say that "twenty years ago the proportion of our exports to our imports was nearly the same as it was last year." The word "proportion," as here used, seems rather a misleading term. What we want to arrive at, is the difference between exports and imports. On turning to the records, I find, in 1861, exports 160,000,000, imports 217,000,000; balance against us 57,000,000. In 1880, exports 220,000,000, imports 400,000,000; excess of imports over exports 178,000,000. (I have left out the odd numbers.) Experts have given it as their opinion that this enormous balance against us—an increase of over a hundred millions since "twenty years ago"—is not made good by the interest on foreign loans, the carrying trade, and other items. To have amassed the money we have invested abroad we must, at some time, have sold more than we bought. Mr. Gladstone admitted this session that the income-tax was not so productive as formerly. This, according to your article, is a crucial test. The percentage of increase in the commerce of America within the last ten years is treble that of England; of France, Germany, Holland, and Belgium, double. Yet they are protective, and England is free trade. America within the last thirteen years has paid off over a hundred millions of her debt. Her exports now exceed her imports by more than thirty millions. One quarter of the wheat land of England is now out of cultivation, half the furnaces have been put out. The working classes are all more or less pinched, and trade is not steady,—always a bad thing. Every year we sell less to foreigners, if we except savages or half savages, and have only so far been kept from a very serious crash by India and our colonies. Many people are of opinion that a few such facts are worth pages of clever and sophistical arguments on the delusive theories of free trade.

THE PALITANA DURBAR VERSUS THE SHRAWUK COMMUNITY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Referring to the very just and able leader that appears in your impression of 30th ultimo, regarding the disputes that have been going on between the Palitana State and the Shrawak community of Western India about the sacred hill of Shetrunja, I have been emboldened to write the following few lines, hoping you will give a corner to the same in your valuable journal. The real feelings of the Shrawak community are known to few, because their representatives in Ahmedabad are mild to such a degree that all their proceedings and writings do not lay before the representatives of Her Majesty the real feeling and grievances in as true a light as they ought to do. The feelings of the community have been touched and are roused from the innermost part of their heart to such an extent, that if some just and soothing measures be not devised and forced upon the Palitana Durbar for the alleviation of their religious wrongs and sufferings, it will not be strange if open rupture ensues between them and the Palitana Durbar. The community has suffered long; and any further indignity and hardship will be quite unbearable. They whisper among themselves that the Government of the day only gives justice to those who rise in a body for their sacred cause. They also say that the Bheels of Meywar got what they desired, not by presenting petitions and preferring prayers to the authorities, but by their own deeds and valour. It is a matter greatly to be regretted that, notwithstanding plaintiff did not appear. On Mr. Budroodin's application the suit was dismissed, with costs.

CHARLES AGNEW TURNER VS. KESSOWJEE NAIK.

Mr. Jardine and Mr. Russell, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, were for the plaintiff; and the Advocate-General, Mr. Lang, and Mr. Inverarity, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, for the defendant. Mr. Jardine being engaged in another court, Mr. Russell said the suit was a very, very heavy one; and asked if his Lordship would allow it to stand over until Monday. Mr. Lang said he had no objection under the circumstances to the case standing over. It was accordingly postponed until Monday, the 5th inst.

A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

IN THE MATTER OF RAGHUNATH AMEERCHUND, AN INFANT.

Mr. Budroodin, on behalf of Ramchundribai, widow of Ameerchund Sheolall, moved for a rule nisi directed to Heeralall Kunumlall, brother of the infant, calling upon him to show cause why he should not hand over the infant to the applicant, and for an order directing him to produce the infant in court. The deceased Ameerchund carried on the business of a piece-goods broker in Bombay, and died intestate in Jeypore in 1877. The applicant, on coming to Bombay, adopted the infant Raghunath, said to be under seven years of age, as her son. About a month and a half ago Heeralall Kunumlall, brother of the adopted son, who was in the service of the deceased and had been for some months carrying on the business of a broker in partnership with the applicant, took away the infant to his house, with the applicant's consent, on the pretence that he wished very much to have the child with him, and that he should return him to her after a few days. About a fortnight subsequently, when the applicant went to Heeralall's house to demand the child, Heeralall declined to return him, telling her she had no claim to his custody, and ordering her to leave his house at once. His Lordship granted a rule nisi directing Heeralall Kunumlall to produce his infant brother in court on Thursday next.

THE EXHIBITION OF INDIAN ART MANUFACTURES.

With reference to the subject the following correspondence is published:—

Letter from the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department, Miscellaneous (F), Circular 5-T., dated 19th August 1881.

"In continuation of my circular letter No. 7, dated 8th March 1881, on the subject of the exhibition of Indian art manufactures, which it is proposed to hold in Calcutta in December next, I am directed to forward herewith a copy of a letter addressed by this Government to the Honorary Secretary to the Native Industrial Art Committee at Simla, No. 584-T., dated 27th June 1881, in reply to a communication advocating small local exhibitions of selected arts instead of a general exhibition of the character proposed by this Government. I am to say that the Lieutenant Governor hopes that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, efforts will be made on this occasion to comply, as far as possible, with the requests of the Exhibition Committee at Calcutta."

No. 584-T., dated Darjeeling, the 27th June 1881.

From A. Mackenzie, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department, to the Honorary Secretary to the Native Industrial Art Committee, Simla.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 18, dated 6th June 1881, and in reply to say that the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider it advisable to make any change now in the programme adopted for the proposed exhibition of Indian art manufactures in Calcutta, which after all does not go very far beyond the original suggestion of the Native Industrial Art Committee of Simla. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be a good plan to start the scheme of provincial exhibitions on a broad scale, in order to excite interest and attention. It does not follow that such general exhibitions need be annual. But the result of opening the series in the manner contemplated may be to show in what directions future efforts should be directed.

2. It is very many years since any industrial exhibition was held in Calcutta. The people of Bengal do not care to send specimens to Simla, where such exhibitions cannot do much good instructing the people, and merely constitute a bazaar for the amusement of the European residents of that station. Government has no means of knowing what progress is being made in industrial art in Bengal, and the Lieutenant-Governor would have been in favour of holding such an exhibition in Calcutta without any reference to the Simla exhibition. The opportunity of obtaining for the exhibition a good building like the Indian Museum cannot occur every year, and it seems much better to have a large, attractive, and complete exhibition, at centres like the Presidency towns, once every ten years even, than a petty exhibition of one or two classes of articles every year, which cannot be of sufficient importance to attract either exhibitors or visitors.

MADRAS.

Putting Indignity on a Brahmin.—In an obscure village in a taluok of the Bellary District, a complaint was recently made by a young Brahmin, who was employed as a gumasta to the village Kurnam, that he had been attacked and knocked down by an evil disposed man of the name of Chenniah, who, after getting on the top of him while he was down, cut his hair short, thus inflicting on him one of the greatest indignities that could be put upon a Brahmin. The cause of the outrage was some disagreement among the villagers as to certain dues which had been collected, and the malcontents had set the man Chenniah on to insult the complainant who was only a lad of about eighteen years of age. Fortunately for the complainant, that very accommodating statute the Penal Code contains a Section, viz, Section 355, which exactly meets the requirements of a case like this, and under it the prisoner was found guilty by the Sub-Magistrate, of "using criminal force with intent to dishonour a person," and sentenced him to undergo two months' rigorous imprisonment. Against this sentence the prisoner, though only a cooly, appealed, and was represented in the Court of the Assistant Magistrate, before whom the appeal came on for hearing by a pleader; but the conviction and sentence of the Sub-Magistrate was upheld, and the prisoner had to return from the Head Assistants station to the Bellary, a sadder, and it is to be hoped, wiser man.—Madras Mail.

N.-W. PROVINCES, PUNJAB, AND OUDH.

Umritsur Jail.—Owing to the unsafe condition of the Umritsur Jail from floods, the prisoners are about to be moved into camp. Very heavy rain fell at Umritsur on Saturday and Sunday last; and a large number of houses in the city came down.

Heavy Rain in the Punjab.—The Lahore paper writes:—We hear from Umritsur that very heavy rain fell there on the 27th and 28th August and that a large number of houses have fallen down. Some cases of cholera are also reported to have occurred in the city. The heavy rain which fell here yesterday (Aug. 30) brought down a good many houses in the city. In a houses which fell down in the Serianwalla Bazar two of the inmates were buried, but happily the neighbours rushed to their aid and succeeded in removing the earth, &c., and extricating them alive. Cases of malarious fever are still on the increase, and, we are sorry to say, prove fatal in many instances. The shops of native druggists may be seen crowded with patients who cannot get medicines without a struggle. The native Hakims and Baids are also having a very good time of it.

A Runaway.—A military native apprentice of the Mayo Hospital called Gayadeen, lately obtained leave for one month, for the purpose of visiting his friends in the North-West Provinces, but failed to return when his term of leave had expired. He was therefore communicated with, but sent an excuse which was deemed quite unsatisfactory. A warrant was thereupon issued for his arrest, but he had meanwhile fled to the Native State of Rewar, whereupon the authorities there were informed, and the student's arrest effected. He has been brought to Lahore, and tried by Court-Martial at Mian Mir, but the result is not as yet known.

Cholera at Lahore.—The recent severe outbreak of cholera in Lahore, coupled with the excess of rainfall from which the district generally has been suffering, must, we think, have shown clearly to the authorities the absolute necessity for the appointing of a competent Engineer as Secretary to the Municipality. There is so much of importance to be done that it would be unreasonable to suppose that the staff as at present constituted is equal to the task. Our drainage, as we have so frequently remarked, is defective in the extreme, and our general sanitary arrangements require a full, complete, and immediate overhauling. The cholera returns given below for the twenty-four hours ending 7 A.M., August 30, are, we regret to say, unsatisfactory:—
